HISTORY OF HILLSBORO HIGH SCHOOL

The history of secondary education in the community, however, goes back much farther than the building described above. In 1834, a meeting concerning building with wings called the "Academy" was erected. To this school went many of the pioneers as the people were living in and around Hillsboro. This building was used until the early "eighties" when it was deemed inadequate to meet the needs of the school, as many inside students from other counties were coming in. A larger frame building was erected on the corner of the two main streets. The teachers at the Academy were:

Hillsboro High School continued to grow after 1912 and exceeded beyond expectations. After turning the crowded grounds over, the Board of Education purchased adjacent land and erected a new graded school building in 1922 consisting of eight large classrooms and a four hundred fifty seat auditorium. The students of the elementary school and the high school were separated with the first eight grades occupying the new grade building. The A-B plan continued until 1929. At this time, the seventh and eighth grades were included with the five high school grades in a C-D plan, which continues at the present time.

The McNeel gymnasium was erected in 1918 and was dedicated in 1939 during the last basketball game with Hillsboro playing Green Bank. Dr. Winters McNeel, for whom the gymnasium was named, was the community physician and served on the Poudre Valley Board of Education. Mr. Frank Johnson was principal at this time. He served the high school from 1924 to 1945 and was responsible for planting most of the trees and shrubbery which have beautified the grounds.

The Vocational Agriculture program was re-established at the school in 1949. The building to house the department was completed in September, 1951.

The Hillsboro Band was organized in 1953 and has been under the instruction of Mrs. Francis Enslin since 1955.

Hillsboro High School's library contains approximately 3,500 books geared to meet the student's needs. Books, maps, filmstrips, transparencies, and magazines are available to both instructor and student. The Pearl Stock shell contains all of her books available, including the latest.

Athletics have always played an important part in the school. Several graduates have won recognition on the college level. Charley Hill set a record with the shot putt at West Virginia University. Alex McLoughlin became one of the state's best coaches. Sam Bartholomew played football at the University of Tennessee when they were awarded national champion and played in the Rose Bowl in senior year.

The Hillsboro Alumni Association keeps active and accurate records of the graduates. Many of them have had distinguished careers in many lines of endeavor. The annual spring meeting of the association is often attended by as many as 200.

Mr. Charles Mower, Principal of Hillsboro High School from 1951 to the present date, has summarized the endeavor of the school as a recent yearbook in these words:

"When I consider that the graduates of Hillsboro High School will go into the world and possibly attempt to correct some of the evils confronting our modern civilization, it is my earnest hope that the education they have received here will help them to think and to judge carefully, objectively, inclusively, and reliably."

June 1970 brings to a close fifty-seven years of secondary education at Hillsboro High School. I have been associated with the school for the past twenty-three years, sixteen as principal of the high school. What wonderful experiences these years have held for me! Wonderful because I have had the opportunity to work with hundreds of children and people from all walks of life. I do not know what there is about the farms, hills, and mountains of Letcher County District, but they produce some of the finest children in the world. Working with them has been a privilege for me.

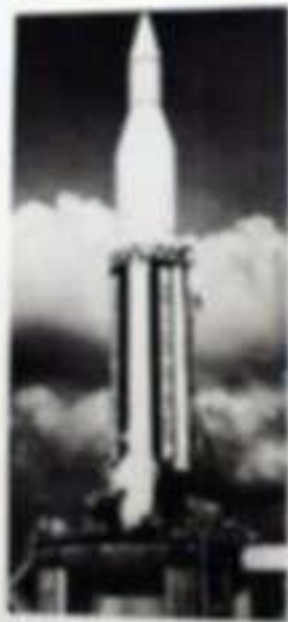

Three years have been exciting and sometimes heart-breaking. It is my hope that I have helped to ease an ache or a pain, or have encouraged a teacher, or aided a child at the right time, so that no child can say, "He failed me", but rather, "He cared".

I appreciate the cooperation, patience, and understanding that teachers, superintendents, and school board members have had for me, and the self-examinations that parents have caused me to undergo.

One thing I have learned about school administration: place a child in the center of your thinking, sincerely and honestly, and you won't go wrong. You may go overboard occasionally, but never very far nor for very long.

I have no fear of tomorrow, for I believe there is a new light, a new vision, and a renewed emphasis for a better education on all levels of learning in our country. Our teachers are better prepared and certainly more knowledgeable than when I began to teach in 1938. The new revitalized high school will be able to offer a curriculum better geared to the needs of our modern society; therefore, our children from the Hillsboro school community will continue, as they have in the past, to become useful and distinguished citizens of that society.

Hallston High School 1925

By Dolly Kammion Ellington

Where feathery fogs fall down the mountain
Where the mist hangs on the hills,
Where dew shimmers bright on the meadow
When twilight burns and spills,
Our forefathers founded my home town,
And tonight through my memories' eye,
I'm viewing long ago people,
A clutch with a weepie, and some tested Hallston's High
Where family tales with parents' comment,
As students came, and students went

So across misty memories' threshold,
My class mates come trooping tonight,
After forty odd years, I can still hear their cheers,
They look charmingly youthful, and bright
No bald heads among them - no hair that has faded,
No spectacles - dentures, nor countenance faded,
None look too poorly, by, rheumatic or fat,
Slouchy, or grumpy. No, none look like that!
For they look as they then looked,
In the glow of youth's drive, my long ago class mates of

Still dreaming, I glance in the mirror,
How it greets me, that image I see!
In this spell I'm under, I wonder and wonder
If my classmates could know that I'm here!
Some our divergent destinies have swept us blue,
Still, God bless, and keep them, where ever they are,
How here's to the new school, and long may she last!
For the old school belongs to the
